

Irish
Lecture
Series

Concordia Irish Studies

Presents

A LECTURE BY

Dr. CLAIRE CONNOLLY

VISITING ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR
BOSTON COLLEGE

ON

THE TURN TO THE MAP: CARTOGRAPHY IN CONTEMPORARY IRISH CULTURE

DATE: FEBRUARY 6, 2003

TIME: 8:30 PM

PLACE: HALL BUILDING, H-431

ADMISSION: FREE

INFORMATION: 848-8711

Dr. Connolly's research to date has focused on the cultural history of the years around the Act of Union. She has published on the place of critical and cultural theory in Irish studies, in particular the relationship between feminist and postcolonial approaches. Her current projects include a book entitled Romantic Ireland: the Novel and the Shaping of Irish National Culture, 1790-1829. She is also editor of Theorizing Ireland and, with Joe Cleary of NUI Maynooth, she is editing the Cambridge Companion to Modern Irish Culture.